Change And Improvement Marks Student Council

The Student Council under President Bob Carden and Vice President John D'Agostino has again sought change for improvement. This distinguished body functioning as an important and integral part of Iona Prep is a definite benefit to the students. The members who are presidents of various activities and homerooms vote on important proposals which could influence the students' ability to learn and progress in school.

As always, the council fulfilled a two-fold purpose. Primarily, it acted as a voice for the student ideas and reforms. Secondly, it served as a voice for the student body, focusing and condensing student opinion for the faculty and administration.

In a time of transition, the members and officers worked with moderator Br. John McCarthy to smooth the rough edges that so often accompany change. This work benefited pupil and administrator, paving the way for mutual understanding and mutual advancement.

- 1 The council engages in a familiar discussion period before approving a proposal
- 2 President Bob Carden and John D'Agostino open a meeting
- 3 President Bob Carden and Vice President John D'Agostino organize their agenda for an upcoming council meeting
- 4 Br. McCarthy helps organize this meeting
- 5 The council eagerly listen to a new proposal before discussion

National Honor Society: Striving To Create The Complete Man

It is not an easy task to find an Honor Society in high school which does more than "honor" its members. However, the Iona Chapter of the N.H.S., under the direction of moderator Brother Daigneault and President Paul Sheils, manages to perform several valuable tasks throughout the year. This society does not sit on its laurels, its participants have gone out and shared their individual talents with all members of the school body. Through the tutorial program, they perform an invaluable service to numerous students. It is certain that the word "honor" is not misplaced in the title of this organization.

1. Don Alleva receives certificate from Brothers Driscoll and Deianey
2. Moderator Brother Daigneault posts notice
3. N.H.S. officers John Manley, Ed Loughman, and Paul Sheils confer with Brother Daigneault
4. Joe DeSantola tutors chemistry in a program established by the National Honor Society
5. President Paul Sheils addresses Honors Night assembly

Polarities Of Thought Meet In Avid Discussion

Forensics at Iona Prep consists of Debate and Oratory. Although these organizations differ superficially, they both are dedicated to the premise that all good ideas are obtained through verbal confrontation.

This year the teams have been very successful. With guidance from Messrs. Robert Naversen and Paul deBarros, the members of both clubs demonstrated their talent at such tournaments as the Dartmouth and Georgetown competitions. The sounding success of the Oratory and Debate teams is a tribute to the imagination of the moderators, the talent of the speakers and the support of the school as a whole.

- Coach Naversen answers questions on an upcoming meet
- Debator Rich Levy delivers speech at Iona Tournament
- President John Manley studies the merits of a particular plan
- Iona team listens patiently to speech of opponent
- Mr. DeBarros delivers last minute instructions to new members

The SAGA again this year has led a path of new and changing ideals for Iona journalism. These endeavors, and the work of a well rounded staff, produced the 200 pages of Iona legacy for the year of '72

Under the editorship of John Phelan and Peter Brown the coordination of all phases of life here at Iona was accomplished in pictorial and literary lines. The Senior coordinators, as did the rest of the staff, led to this goal of depicting Iona's social, academic, and religious environment. This of course demanded work of many different persons and many different characters and here is where we find a portrait of our staff

The '72 SAGA staff epitomized dedication and talent. These natural attributes were supplemented by the staff's uncanny penchant for organization. Mike Leslie did the Activities Section while Joe Marren and Kevin Mc Mullan covered Sports and Rich Davis presented Classes. Dan Quinn oversaw the Senior Section and Bob Trainor handled Faculty. John Manley and Bill Gray wrote most of the copy.

The Photo staff, the obvious backbone of the book added to the staff's effectiveness. Paul Tobin, photography editor, helped to paint a picture the staff held of Iona. This picture, one of a pulsating society, is hereby presented to you by the staff of SAGA, her editors, and her moderator, Brother Devlin, for your approval

Iona News: Prep Tabloid Expounds On Student Life

It is not often that a high-school newspaper can adequately cover the entire school scene and expand into international affairs. However, Mr. Mulchahy and the Editors of the Iona News, Pat Pizzella, Tom Pilkington, and Tom McEvoy have achieved this high standard. Included in the fortnightly publication is a complete brief on student life, satirical humor, and a delving into world problems. Articles such as the "Claim-to-fame" card and "Bo's-Fro" were a constant source of student enjoyment. On a more serious note, "Counterpoint" and "Campus Voice" provided us with intellectual food for thought. The Sports section followed Iona's teams throughout the year and successfully covered their triumphs and defeats. Since Communication is the basis of understanding we owe a great deal to the Iona News Staff.

Christian Attitudes Are Fostered By Y.C.S.

The Y.C.S. is a society of students who's goal is one of helping others. This help takes the form of christian activity in moral virtues. The Y.C.S. sponsors the annual Turkey Drive and Orphans Day as a school event to involve the students in the Christian profile of Iona

It's membership, expanding the four years, adds another opportunity for the students to fulfill their individual religious outlooks in a singular way. Under the leadership of Bill Russell and Bill Groglio the Y.C.S. extends itself to all the students here at Iona. The Y.C.S., with it's moderator Mr. Puglia, is an essential facet to the character of the Prep

Fall Dramatics: "Never Too Late"

With the fall semester well under way, it was "Never too Late" for the Iona Prep Players to again surprise audiences with this first production of the 1971-72 season. The play, written by Sumner Arthur Long, was produced with the "professionalism" so common to the Iona stage, and was performed with the Player's great enthusiasm before sellout audiences.

Bro. Antosca, Mr. Romeo and Bro. Grondin headed the cast and crew, and collaborated their talents with those of the students to produce a fine show.

The plot revolves around a middle-aged couple, played by Mary Driscoll and Tony Barletta, who are expecting a child at a time when grandchildren would seem more appropriate. Complications occur during the course of the show, which result in hilarious comedy that was aptly portrayed by the cast.

Under the imaginative guidance of Miss Louise Reidinger and Mrs. Nancy Forrest, the Library Council has added greatly to the efficiency of our library. By performing such valuable activities as circulating books, filing magazines and maintaining the long Prep Scrapbook, this group of dedicated young men has proven necessary for library use by the Prep Students.

Lately, Iona has witnessed a great awakening of modern educational development. At the forefront of this awakening is the Audio Visual club. Under the direction of Mr. Victor Magnotta, the club has greatly aided the students and faculty with closed-circuit television, overhead projectors and other technological instruments. They have found the learning process greatly simplified by the clubs electronic wizardry. The club has proven to be of particular importance to the Humanities Branch of the Senior program.

The A.V. members have become very knowledgeable in the use of all pertinent equipment. They have proven a valuable asset to Iona and their schoolmates by constantly broadening the horizons of knowledge

Mothers Demonstrate Achievement Through Action

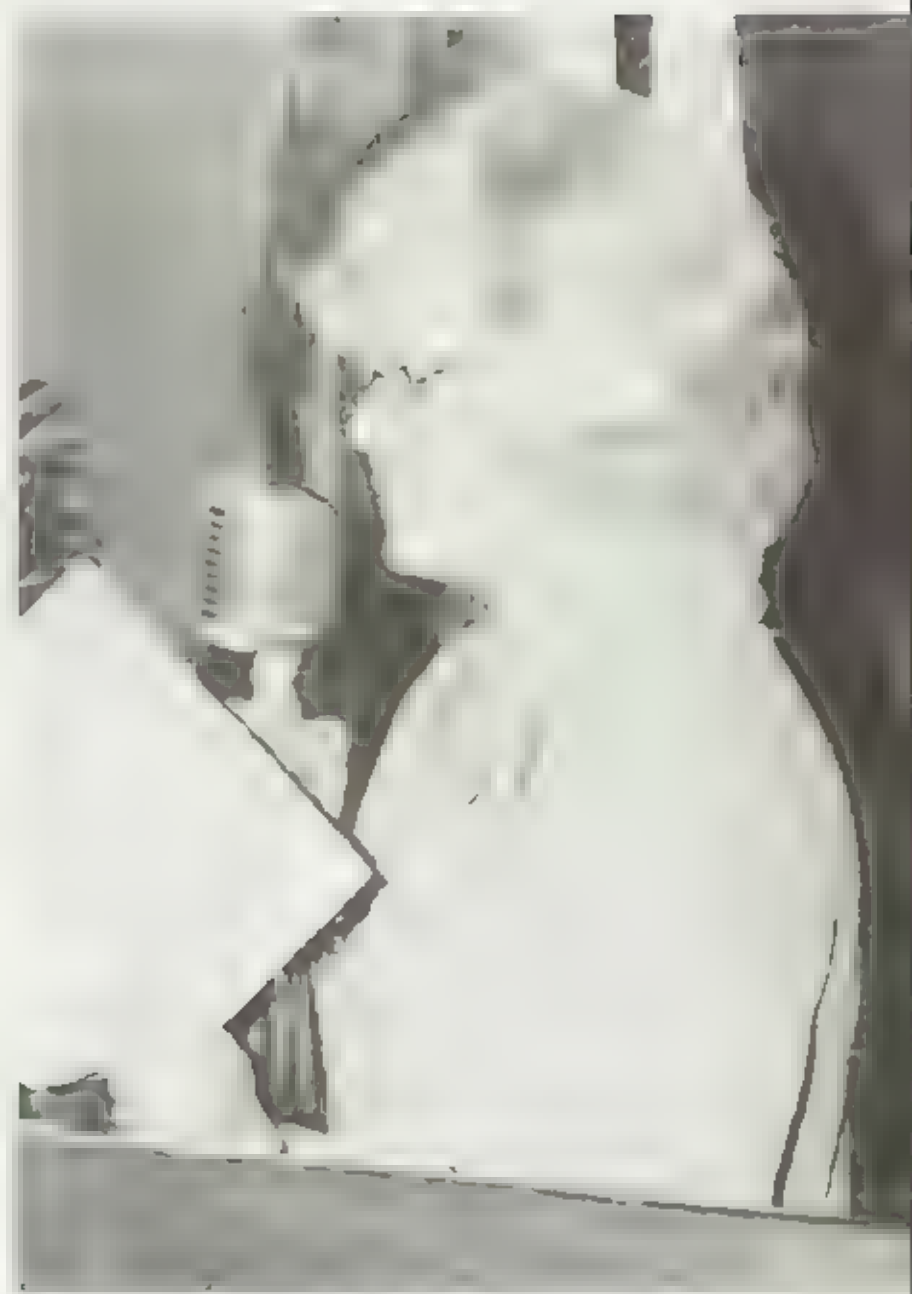

One significant contribution to the smooth operation and steady progress of Iona Prep, is the effort of the Mothers' Club. Their diligence is evidenced in the successful characteristics of all their undertakings. It is an essential and invaluable organization, dedicated to helping both the student and school socially and financially.

Under the outstanding leadership of Mrs. James Curtin, the Club has proved itself to be a hard working responsible society. She was greatly assisted by her Vice-Presidents, Mrs. Francis Santangelo and Mrs. Alfonso Rigiore, and Moderator Brother James K. Devlin. Outstanding achievements were produced by Mrs. Robert McMullan, who successfully organized the Communion Breakfast, which was highlighted by an address from Brother Martin P. Burns of the Grammar School. The Emerald Isle Luncheon, the major fund raising event of the Club's calendar, was due to the fine work of Co-Chairmen, Mrs. William Cunningham and Mrs. Valfrid Palmer.

This year's keywords, dedication and organization are appropriate in describing the tremendous job accomplished by the Mothers' of Iona. Their outstanding support of the school is almost taken for granted, but now, in retrospect, we acknowledge a job well done.

- 1 Luncheon festivities included the purchasing of chances, and high hopes for winning
- 2 Mrs. Ross Fulco displays treasure chest
- 3 Brother Harold M. Delaney addresses annual Communion Breakfast as Mrs. Robert McMullan, Chairman of the event looks on
- 4 Mrs. James Cuttin, President of the Auxiliary, welcomes all Emerald Isle attendants
- 5 Mrs. Valfrid Palmer and Mrs. William Cunningham, Co Chairmen of the gala luncheon affair, express the enjoyment of the day

Mathematics Is The Key To The Space Age

The sight of rockets blasting into space has become more and more common around Iona. Thanks to the Rocketry Club, we have kept pace with the technological advances of the time. Their ingenuity and diligence is well-rewarded by their accomplishments. Now, with Moderator Joseph Puglia leading the way, the Club is expanding into other areas. They design and launch their own rockets with excellence. This group of dedicated young scientists are continually delving into the intricacies of space.

In past years, Iona Prep has witnessed a tremendous growth of understanding in the areas of Math and Science. One of the leading achievements of this awareness has been the establishment of a Math Club. President Kevin Appert has greatly encouraged cooperation with the Audio-Visual Club in all forms of study. By bringing guest speakers to address the club, the members have become quite well voiced in intricate fields of Math. Their diligent work and willingness to help other students, substantially increases the mathematical aptitude of Iona Students.

Iona's Horizons Broadened By Educational Activities

Spanish Club - Students who wish to enhance their knowledge of Spanish culture and Spanish language are able to do so through the Spanish Club. Mr. Arnao lends them knowledge of Hispanic culture which proves great aid in their school work. This year they joined with the Iona Spanish Club to offer a Spanish dinner, with fine Spanish cuisine the order of the evening. During their annual Christmas Party they celebrated La Navidad in the Spanish style, enjoying the cracking of the parranda. Their activities have been a great success, and it is certain these gentlemen will continue to excel in the club.

Chess Club - Chess is a challenging, intricate game. It requires mental prowess, keen intelligence and deep insight. The 1971-72 version of the Chess Club exhibited all these abilities. With President Peter Koch at the helm, the chess men moved from one tournament to another, demonstrating at each play-off the quality of their collective game. With each year, this quality draws them further into the Iona experience.

Fathers' Club Continues Diligent School Support

This year, the Fathers' Club has once again contributed enormously to the efficiency and improvement of Iona Prep. Under the leadership of President Vincent Macri and Vice President Philip Jakeway the fathers completed another successful and eventful school year. The annual picnic to acquaint new members was followed by the Christmas dinner-dance. Organized by Mr. Walter Vollmoeller, this was the social highlight of the year and a great success. Following the dinner-dance was a father-son Communion Breakfast, organized by Mr. Stan Nurzyk. The Club climaxed their activities with their annual Sports Dinner which proved a source of income and an enjoyable evening for all. The fathers have again come through and we of Iona thank them

Irish Power To Division Title

- 1 Tackle George Marrone stops Ferrer ground attack as Don Trubert moves.
- 2 All County Ends Charlie Mowlan and Carlos Ferrer turn upfield against Mount as Ferrer grabs pass.
- 3 Carmen Palladino and Tom Borgia punish Mount runner.

The Iona Prep Varsity Football team enjoyed the best season since the 8-0 championship season five years ago. The 6-1 mark this season was the best in the CHSFL City Division. Only a technicality after Chamnades refusal to play Iona in a postponed championship, prevented Iona from being league champions.

As the season got under way the Gaels were faced with a tough Holy Trinity squad. Losing at the half, the spirited Iona club rallied to a 22-10 win. The following Friday proved to be disastrous one for Iona as an offensive minded Cardinal Hayes handed Iona what proved to be their only setback. With a 1-1 record Iona faced an undefeated Holy Cross team and managed to hold off a late rally and win 18-16. Iona's next victory came over Cardinal Spellman 26-0 followed by a 28-14 win over a spirited Stepinac team.

Next, Mount Saint Michaels three year winning streak over the Gaels was broken as Iona won easily 18-6.

The Division Championship game against St. Francis proved to be one of the most dramatic games in the history of football at the Prep. The Gaels were down 7-0 in the first half after they turned the ball over on their own 10 yard line. Iona battled back throughout the second half, and with less than two minutes left, Heelan fired a touchdown strike to Carlos Ferrer. Heelan, then, rolled right and hit Ferrer again for the two points and an Iona win.

Balanced Offense: Key To Iona's Success

Iona's offense is best characterized by the word balance. George DeLeo and Ernie Fiore formed a fine running attack, with DeLeo gaining over a 1,000 yards. The offensive line led by Jack Gazzola, All League tackle Tom McKeown, and captain George Marrone opened the gaps for Iona's steady running attack. Iona's fine pair of receivers, captains Charley Moylan and Carlos Ferrer gave the Prep an effective air attack. Junior quarterback, Brian Heelan, proved himself as one of the premier quarterback's in the CHSFL.

1. Heelan looks over Mount defense
2. DeLeo leads interference as Heelan options to Fiore
3. All League, All County back George DeLeo goes for the score

Defense Dominates Iona's Rivals

The defense led by All League linebackers Carmen Palladino and Tom Borgia proved to be one of the best in the CHSFL. The front line, consisting of seniors George Marrone, Joe Trereto, Tom McKeown and junior Tom McCormick made the defensive club a tough squad to run against. The ability to defend well against the pass is attributable to the fine linebacking staff of Carmen Palladino, Tom Borgia, Joe Marren and Mike Misisco.

The secondary, led by senior Don Trabert, kept the explosive passing attacks in check.

Although the defense experienced some difficulty in the beginning of the season, it seemed to find itself in Iona's big win over Holy Cross. From there it went on to hold two opponents scoreless and to virtually win the Stepinac game with a goal line stand.

1. Iona's defense gets set
2. Palladino and Trabert cripple a Mount runner

Turkey Day Victory

1. Fiore leads DeLeo for the score
2. Heelan calls an audible at the line
3. Irish defense swarm over Purple Wave runner

Iona's string of wins over archrival New Rochelle was extended to five with a resounding 25-0 victory. The game was played in terrible weather conditions as it was both muddy and cold. The 25 points that Iona scored under these conditions truly indicates its capabilities.

The offense, led by junior quarterback Brian Heelan opened the scoring with a touchdown strike to Charley Moylan. Heelan, who received the McKenna Award as the best back, threw accurately all day to Moylan, Rehders and Ferrer. The Gaels second score was the result of a long drive culminated by a 3 yard spurt by George DeLeo.

The defense, which stifled the Purple Wave throughout the game, came up with two key fumble recoveries in the first half. The second half saw the defense stop New Rochelle's passing attack with interceptions by Joe Marren, Chip Guarino and Carmen Palladino.

The third Iona score came as a result of a New Rochelle turnover. Heelan hit Carlos Ferrer in the end zone. The Gaels capped off the scoring with fullback Ernie Fiore bringing it in from the two yard line.

Iona's defense tries to stop Hayes attack

Iona's J.V. Football came alive this year, much to the misfortune of their opponents. A well balanced team was molded by Coaches Magnotta and Fogler. Iona's schedule this year was expanded to nine games in order to include such teams as White Plains and New Rochelle, as well as, the games in the perennially tough C.H.S.F.L. The J.V. opened up its season with a convincing 12-0 win over New Rochelle. The team rolled to a 14-0 decision over Holy Trinity with a big 24-16 defeat of Cardinal Hayes following. These early wins established enough pride and confidence to carry them to one of Iona's most successful J.V. seasons

This spirit and hard work joined with raw talent to produce our squad's brutal effectiveness. Mike Alleva, Gene Doherty and Vernon Smith headed the offense while Ricky Leach, Cosmo Santullo and Norbert Renz spearheaded the defense. These leaders forced a tight drive toward success and guaranteed Iona victory for the future

Frosh — Division Champs

1) Fearsome Frosh Defense size up Francis' Offense. 2
2) Irish Offense plans attack

Mr. Moore's Frosh Football team has again proved convincingly that Iona's future in football is secure. The Little Gaels astounded their opponents as they marched to a 4-0-2 season.

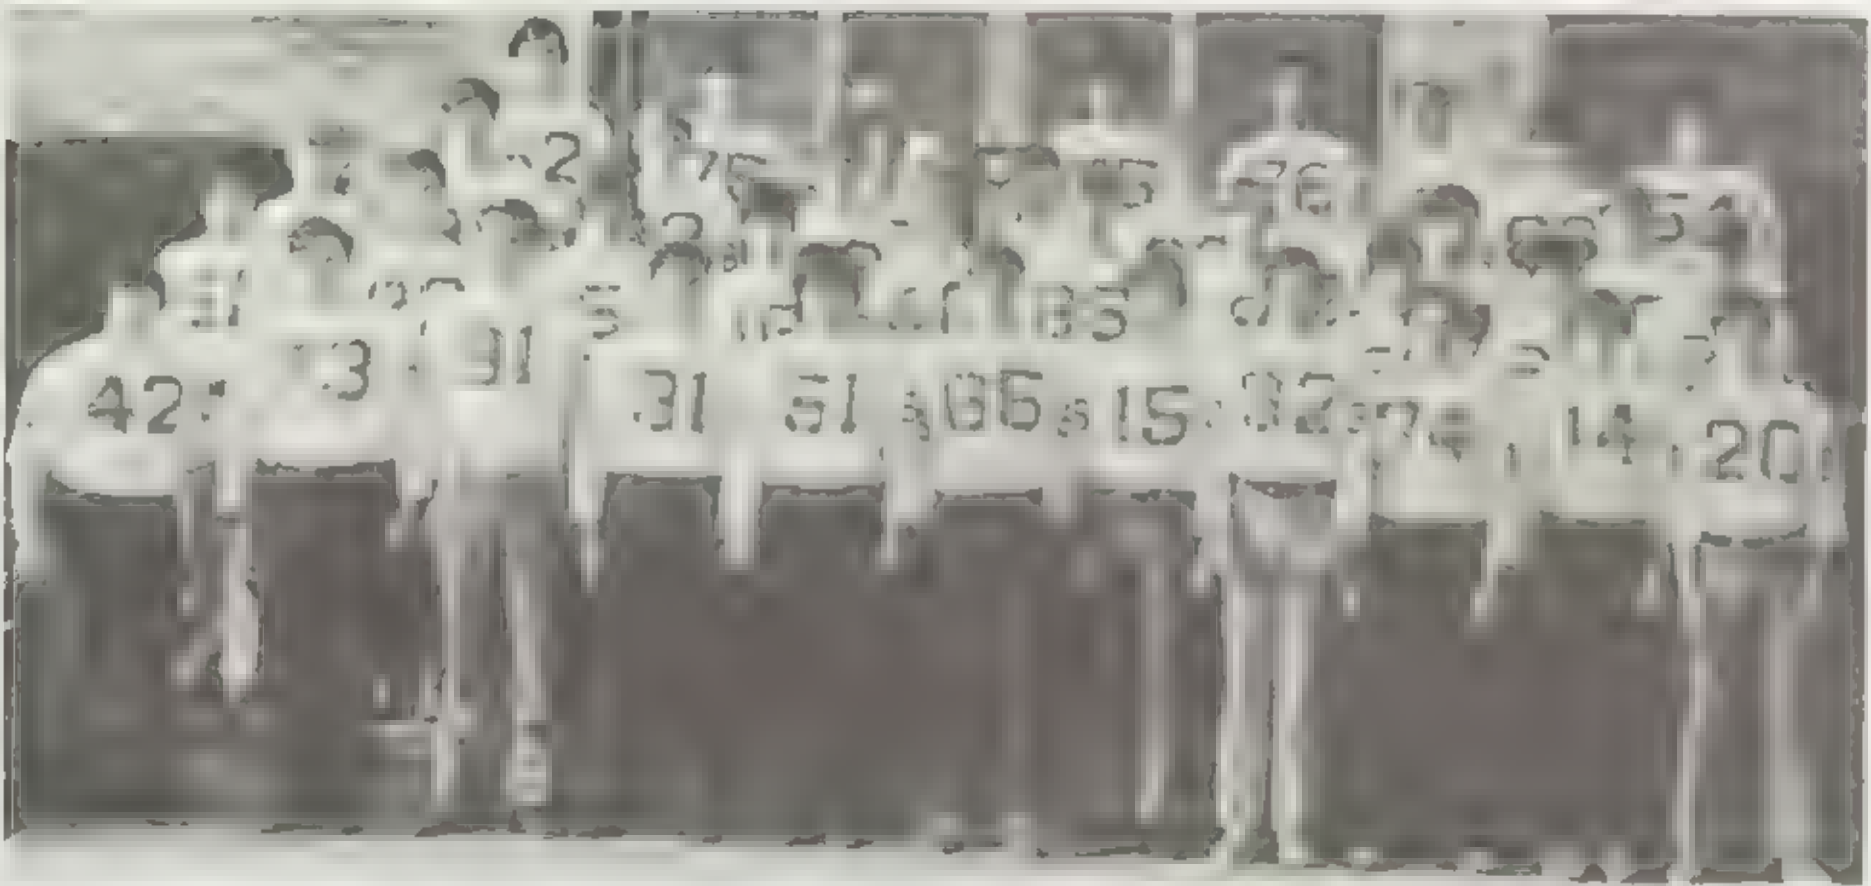

Quarterback Tony Gianelli handed off to backs Derek Dalton, Paul Petrillo and John Salambini as the team sandwiched its rivals between an inspired offense and a solid defense. Slashing runs, superb blocking and perfect passes jelled to form an unstoppable machine. The defense proved equally adept at both individual effort and team spirit.

Together they were an irresistible force. Such powers as Holy Trinity, Cardinal Hayes, Cardinal Spellman, and Stepinac fell before their onrushing tide.

Track Team's Balance Leads To Success

In the tradition of Iona, shot put has been strongest in the area of field events. This aspect of field events has been led by George Marrone, Chris Daniele and Carman Palladino is presently being rivaled by pole vaulters Des McGlade and Jim O'Connell. Pole vaulting has been one of Iona's weak points in past years but is now showing promise. High-jumping, led by Bill Scott, triple jumping with Jim Fogarty and hurdling by Rick Kropp, Bill Scott and Frank Vaccari have also shown marked improvement over last year.

On the boards, in the indoor running season, Iona has two of the best quarter milers in the county, Paul Shiels and Ed Dougherty. Tom Petrone, Fred Albertini and Paul Caruso make up the back bone of the short speed. Three of the fastest sophs are Gene Boesch, Cosmo Santullo and Steve Vasta; they finish the total speed picture. Distance, led by Mike Kiernan and Gerry Sexton along with underclassmen Jack Egan, Joe Garland, Mark McCabe, Sean McGillicuddy, Sam Masini and Lew Munday, continues in the tradition of Iona.

1. Kevin Degan takes the lead in after school practice
2. Lew Munday sets the pace at an Iona meet
3. Ed Dougherty and John Fallon during afternoon track work out
4. Paul Caruso handles the hurdles with ease
5. Mike Fischer and Gregg Barnard take the lead
6. Ross clearing two hurdles
7. Jess McGuire gets over the top

*Returning Harriers

John Bacon, Mike Korman and returning players
on a stretch of the golf course. New for 1978
Foster, the new, state-of-the-art clubhouse.

Under the imaginative coaching of Mr. James Greer, the members of Iona's Varsity Cross Country team produced an outstanding record. One of the best performances of this good year was put in by Junior, Jack Egan. Egan endured the agony of two and a half miles to break the school record for the Cross Country run.

With leadership provided by Co-captains Jerry Sexton and Mike Kiernan, the team's record was admirable. They placed second in stiff competition in the Eastern States Championship and first in the New Rochelle Championship meet.

1. Mike Kiernan leads the pack against New Rochelle
2. Jim Lawlor and Jerry Colligan dash to the finish
3. Iona runners Jerry Sexton and Bill Tracy race towards victory over New Rochelle

Harriers Enjoy Triumphant Spring Season

Spring is the season that tracksters perform their best. This was the reason for so many outstanding performances in all aspects of track and field. The team of '72 has approached the point of equal importance and a balance between track and field. In the past, Prep teams have banked upon the strength and endurance of their distance runners for most of their outstanding records and performances. But the spring team of this year has a remarkably fast speed team along with a strong field team. These dynamic co-partners insured Iona's best all around performance in its recent history.

Brother Harlow concentrated his strength and time in shot putters, hurdlers, high-jumpers and pole vaulters. As a result, outstanding performances were given by Don Trabert, Chris Daniele, George Marrone, Carmen Paliadino, Rick Kropp, Jim O'Connell, Jim Fogarty and Sophomore Desi McGlade. Mr. Greer gave his full support and effort to the distance and speed aspects of the sport. Because of this devotion, distance men such as Paul Shields, Ed Dougherty, Jack Egan and Mark Nurzyk, gave their all. These upperclassmen were backed by future promising sophomores Mark McCabe, Kevin Dezan, Jim Lawlor, Gene Boesch, Steve Vasta and Cosmo Sant'Allo.

1. Desi McGlade clears height in near perfect form
2. Speedmen receive days workout
3. Team loosens up under a warm sun

Frosh: Performance And Consistency

This year's Freshman Cross Country Team completed a successful season with a 3 and 1 record in dual meets. The team won the Elks Meet against New Rochelle and also placed 10th in competition in another major meet. Leading the team to these victories were Mike Gorman, Dan O'Connell, Tom Crane and Frank Conroy. The outstanding season reflects the coaching job handled by Br. Lynch and Mr. DeBellis and the driving will of a young new team.

The Iona Swim Team proved its dominance of the Westchester schools. This year led by co-captains Tom McEvoy and Tom Clifford the Fish Market overpowered such rivals as Mamaroneck, Hackley, New Rochelle, and most importantly St. Mary's. This marked the first victory over them in eight years and signified Coach Butler's hundreth victory while at the school. This event did not slow down the Iona powerhouse; they continued to plunge their opponents deep into the water. Such standouts as Tom MacNiven have brought other credits to the team with fine performances at the Catholic School Nationals at Villanova. Other swimmers which showed fine promise to future teams are Brian Mahoney and freshmen Chris Powers, Tom Byrnes and Brian Jackson.

1. Rory O'More smoothly finishes a difficult 100 yds. in the butterfly competition
2. Bob Tarpey approaches his next dive confidently
3. Tom Mac Niven delivers with a graceful butterfly stroke, far outdistancing his nearest competitor in the 200 Individual Medley event

4. Tarpey executes a forward dive in the layout position and gains the few points that contribute to the status that keep the spectators on their toes.
5. Gary Minto demonstrates his abilities in this forward dive as he assumes the tight tuck position.

6. A definite eye catcher at most of the meets was this backward somersault in the pike position. Just another item in the vast stock that Gary Minto carries to the meets.
7. Coach Gary Minto watches his swimmers and serves as the driving force that has led them to their success and spirit.

This year's squad, under first year coach Mr Timothy Cohane, created a new spirit around the Prep campus. Co-captains Jim Scully and Charlie Logan provided the Irish quintet with the leadership necessary for a winning season. Juniors Walt Longo, Bob Iorio, Brian Heelan, Larry Holten, John Tolomer, Steve Garagiola, Mike Scanlon, and Frank Lapetina contributed greatly to the teams' success, and can be expected to do the same next season. Seniors Bob Petrocelli, Kevin Taylor, Ernie Fiore, and Steve Manning exhibited their experience and ability on the court.

The season was filled with many exciting moments and outstanding individual performances. These include Walt Longo's 27 points in a big win over St. Helena's, Bob Iorio's free-throw with one second remaining, which enabled Cohane's 5 to upset Stepinac 60-59, and Jim Scully's buzzer shot which gave the Prep a two point victory. The 1971-1972 Varsity Basketball team will be remembered for it's great defense and unlimited effort. These virtues can be attributed to the fine leadership of the squad's co-captains and the excellent coaching of Mr. Cohane

Coach Tim Cohane's J.V. Basketball Team went through a disappointing season, but showed great prospects for future varsity teams. The "J.V.5" was plagued by continuous injury and bad luck throughout the season and still managed to post a winning percentage. Co-captains Rob Hamilton and Greg Corson provided consistent high scoring through the season. Steve Murphy got off to a slow start due to back and ankle injuries, but fell into groove along mid-season. The backcourt was run by all out hustlers Ed Curtin and Rick Lesch. The potential talent and incentive is there and this year's J.V. could help bring the C.H.S.A.A. City Championship to the Prep in the coming season.

Frosh Offer Hope For Future Championship

Since the success of future varsity teams is determined at the Frosh level, the good showing of Iona's Frosh Basketball team has brightened the hopes of optimist and pessimist alike

With Br. McGoldrick at the helm, the team steamrolled to a victorious season. Though the competition was fierce, the Iona five performed admirably against such adversaries as Cardinal Hayes, St. Helena and Albert Leonard

Coach McGoldrick's men featured a solid offense and a competent defense. The team's starters varied from game to game but all players exhibited a determination that rivaled their ample talent. First year men: Pete Lobue, Chris Mara, Derek Dalton and George Mallas were outstanding in this promising field

Alleys And Courts; Further Outlet For Excellence

This season's Varsity A Bowling Team was one of the best in Iona's history, finishing just two points out of first place. Under the command of Co-captains John Scola and Lenny Piedmont the team placed well until the final game of the season before bowing to a strong Port Chester team. Seniors Frank La Manna and Angelo Sicuranza along with Juniors Bill DiSesa and Nick Mouracade backed up Scola and Piedmont with fine efforts.

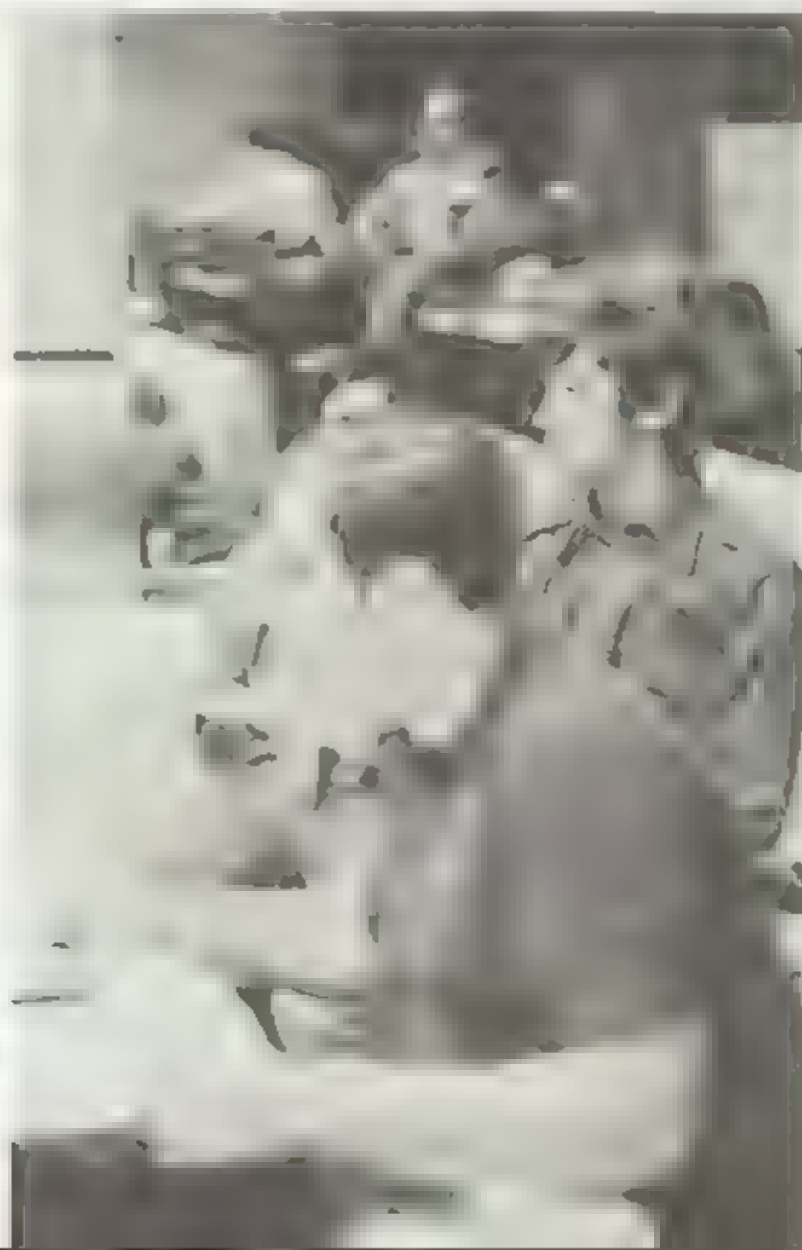

The B and B + teams did not fair as well in competition, however, Steve Webster and Ray Alfini bowled well for the B team, and Dom Digeon held up the B + team with his consistent performances. Next year's varsity is expected to be even better with many members of the team returning with the necessary experience.

Iona's A Bowling Team Bill DiSesa, Lenny Piedmont, Francis LaManna, Nick Mouracade, Angelo Sicuranza, missing John Scola.

Pat Gialo records another strike.

The Iona Tennis program displayed remarkable talent in its J.V. and Freshman ranks this fall with victories in the September Fordham Tournament. The Varsity was weakened by the lack of depth, but faired admirably under the circumstances

The Varsity Team was led by Captain Bob Petrocelli and junior Bill DiSesa. Bob Manavola and Peter Koch also made significant contributions. The J.V. was strengthened by Emmett Ryan and Greg Martino, both finalists in the Fordham Tournament. The top freshman was Woody Worthington, who is expected to bring future Iona teams a winning reputation. Coach Randolph Jenne expressed pride in the team's fine showing in the spring's duel meets and repeated success was predicted for the coming years

Blades Dominate Again

The Iona Blades with a fine 8-1 record fought hard throughout the season to prove it is the leagues best team. Led by Captain Bob Gillen along with Bob DiRenzo and Rich Wolfe, the first line led the League in scoring with 6 points while the defense was nothing to hide. Tom Nolin, Jim Rooney and Mike Alberto combined to form the second best in the League. Credit cannot be given to these alone. Sophomore Dave Santini and Seniors Bob McMullan and Ed Loughman all contributed to this fine effort.

Baseball Squad Produces Fine Record

Iona's 1972 Varsity Baseball Team is looking forward to what looks to be it's finest season in years. These hopes are prompted by the large number of returning seniors. The hopes are diminished once again, however, by the lack of facilities for the team to practice on.

Iona's mound corps is almost complete as journeymen Mike Kmetz, Steve Manning, and Ted Cousin are returning. The defense, anchored by Bill Byrne and George DeLeo in the infield, and Jack Gazzola, Joe Marren, and Joe Trerotola in the outfield combine to give Iona a sturdy defense. Strong seasons are also expected from juniors Chip Guarino and John Sauers. Coach Margotta has been working hard since February and expects a successful year

1. Iona's mound corps Steve Manning, Mike Kmetz, and Ted Cousin
2. Senior slugger Joe Marren awaits pitch
3. Shortstop John Sauers, catcher Chip Guarino, and third baseman Bill Byrne head the defense
4. BOTTOM ROW (L-R) John Sauers, Joe Trerotola, Jack Gazzola, Joe Marren, Chip Guarino. TOP ROW Steve Manning, Mike Kmetz, Ted Cousin, Bill Byrne

Golfers Headed For Fourth Perfect Year

Iona's four ambassadors to the world of Golf proved themselves well suited for the links. Our foursome, Brendan Rooney, Jack Pollack, Mike Leslie and Jack O'Connell displayed a cool, composed form that bested even the most accomplished oponents. Inspired by Br. Daig nault's coaching, they produced a record which is a credit to the school

The Iona Prep Captain's Corps, a group of young men who excel in the many areas of Physical Education, aid in the growth of Iona.

Their common bond is leadership. The Corps sponsors the Prep Obstacle Run, Power Lifting Contest, and Table Tennis Tournament. The Corps, as in past years, was instrumental in the success of the annual Iona Prep Open House

Weight training is another activity where the Captains display their leadership

Captains are taught the fundamentals of various sports which they use to instruct their classmates
